

June 2009

With more than 2.5 million visitors to our seven Faculty Commons websites each year, you are helping someone either come to know Christ or know Christ better — every 12 seconds.

Would you like to see what you are accomplishing through your giving in one minute?

00:01 Email from United States:

“My son recently came home from college and as a result of his science classes, told us there is no evidence for God. Your site has many excellent articles. Thank you.” [Response: “We will pray for God’s work in his life and you, as you show love.”]

00:13 Email from United States:

“Your articles helped with many of my questions. Can you help me with some others?
How do I know if I am saved?
Is my faith really a saving faith?” [Response: Scriptures, additional articles.]

00:25 Email from Pakistan:

“I don’t know of many other Christians here. Your articles on evidence for the Christian faith have encouraged me. Are there any plans to translate them into Urdu?” [Response: “Not currently; we lack translators.”]

00:37 Email from United States:

“I am a Christian professor and found many of your articles promising. I want to learn more about sharing my faith and this seems a good place to start.” [Response: Will call him.]

00:49 Email from Hungary:

“We train pastors and youth workers here and are grateful for the apologetics articles and Bible studies. We would like to translate your excellent articles into Hungarian and put them on our website so they may benefit others.” [Response: Permission given for translation.]

Ministry Through Our Websites

Each week I have the privilege of working closely with Paul Hartgrove (right) to manage our websites and improve the look and content. Facts about Paul:

- Retired early as an insurance underwriter to work with Faculty Commons.
- Married to Judy, who teaches autistic children at an elementary school.
- Has three sons and two grand children.
- Loves LSU — where he became a Christian through Campus Crusade.
- He drives to my office in Denton each Tuesday to plan the latest web changes and eat tacos for lunch.

PLEASE PRAY: We are in need of volunteers who can give one or more hours a week to correspond with website visitors; or who can research and write.

Thanks for ministering to so many. — Steve & Sarah
