

Class of 1990: "It Is Humbling"

"I learned about a relationship with God and how to have a daily walk with Him through Campus Crusade's Athletes in Action(AIA)."

Dr. Colleen Eddy, Teacher Education, North Texas

When she was a student at the University of Texas, Colleen saw her relationship with God grow and she learned how to lead a Bible study. Now uses that training to lead a faculty Bible study each week on Ephesians.

She knows God has her on campus to minister to others, and that teaching others to teach math is what God wants her to be doing. "I have learned that I can make complicated mathematical concepts understandable," she says.

"I want to help my students both with math and with life." she explains. "Some will come to me with their problems. It is humbling – I don't have all of the answers for them, but many know I am a Christian. So I pray for them, and often students ask me to pray with them about tough situations."

Colleen with AIA in Europe

Class of 2004 -- Marry That Boy?

"John was my first Cru Bible study leader. I met him and thought 'I am going to marry that boy.' Then I learned his last name; so I thought 'Maybe not!'"

Dr. Amanda Hurlbut, Teacher Education, Texas Woman's

"As a freshman in 2001 I went to a Campus Crusade for Christ/Cru meeting at North Texas. I wanted fellowship and to learn more about sharing my faith. God gave me all that and more -- I met John Hurlbut there.

"I spent 15 years after college teaching in public schools; then God led me to become a professor of education. I have a passion to work with future teachers, and to help them teach well, to build that capacity. I was inspired as a child by great teachers, and in graduate school, by professors like Colleen!

"Many of my students have families and have felt overwhelmed, especially when all of our classes went online. Cru emphasized reaching out to others and I put that into practice. As a Christian I want my students to know that I'm here for them, and for them to know that I care."

Amanda speaks at TWU Cru meetings and gladly goes by "Dr. H."

Amanda and John

Class of 2022 – Leading By Serving

"Despite CoVid-19, I still want to be a nurse. I want to show others that I care and that I can comfort them and help them in some really hard times."

Megan Brieden, Nursing Student, Texas Woman's University

Megan began at TWU in the fall of 2018 in the Honors College. "They have a top nursing program and they gave me a great scholarship," she says. After two years on the Denton campus, she will be spending her final two years of schooling at TWU's nursing center in Dallas. She was excited when she received the official letter of admission to their program (below, right).

Megan met Sarah her first semester at TWU when she began attending Cru meetings. "I loved the opportunity for Christian community and teaching," she says. "I am not the bravest person in personal evangelism, so I was really helped by learning from watching others. Being involved in Cru has definitely propelled me to make ministry in priority in my life."

---Thanks for allowing us to work with professors and students who love Christ -- and want to faithfully serve Him!

Steve and Sarah

High School Salutorian

